MOVIE SYNOPSIS

AIM:

To write a movie synopsis to provide a concise and engaging overview of the film's plot, characters and themes.

TITLE:

The Lost Letter

GENRE:

Horror / Psychological Thriller

SETTING:

The story takes place in a mysterious apartment where a tragic incident occurred ten years ago. The timeline shifts between the present day and the past, mainly during nighttime to enhance the eerie atmosphere.

MAIN CHARACTERS:

Mahesh – A college student from the past who commits suicide after writing a mysterious letter.

Mithil – Curious and brave, deeply interested in supernatural activities.

Firoz – Practical and humorous, initially skeptical about supernatural elements.

Mukesh – Calm and observant, questions situations logically.

Dhana – The one who introduces the mystery and suggests using the Ouija board.

INCITING INCIDENT:

Four friends move into an apartment as paying guests and discover that a student had committed suicide there years ago after writing a mysterious letter, parts of which vanished during investigation

PLOT SUMMARY:

The story begins with Mahesh writing a letter before committing suicide under mysterious circumstances. Years later, four college students move into the same apartment. Upon learning about the past incident, they attempt to communicate with the spirit using a Ouija board.

Initially, nothing happens, and they dismiss it as a joke. However, Mithil, driven by curiosity, secretly performs a ritual using his own blood to contact the spirit. That night, he experiences a vivid dream where he witnesses Mahesh's final moments.

In the dream, Mithil observes the entire sequence of events leading to Mahesh's death and finally reads the complete letter, uncovering the hidden truth behind the incident.

CENTRAL CONFLICT:

The main conflict revolves around uncovering the truth behind Mahesh's mysterious death and the supernatural connection between Mithil and the past.

CLIMAX:

Mithil reads the complete letter in his dream and finally understands the truth behind Mahesh's suicide, experiencing a shocking emotional realization.

RESOLUTION:

The story ends with ambiguity. Mithil returns to reality, but his silent reaction suggests he now knows the truth.

THEMES:

Curiosity vs Consequences, Supernatural vs Reality, Friendship and Fear, Hidden Truths and Mystery.

tone and mood:

Dark, suspenseful, and eerie with moments of psychological tension and emotional depth.

FINAL THOUGHTS:

The Lost Letter is a gripping psychological horror story that blends supernatural elements with emotional storytelling.

VISUAL AND ASTHETIC:

Dim lighting and night settings Blinking lights and shadows Close-up shots (tears, letter, coin movement) Slow camera zooms to build suspense

MEMORABLE SCENE:

Mahesh writing the letter before suicide The Ouija board session Coin moving on its own Mithil's dream sequence Final look back at the apartment

RESULT:

The movie synopsis was successfully created by including all essential elements such as plot, characters, conflict, and themes, providing a clear and engaging overview of the story.

PRESENTING TEAM STORIES IN CLASS

AIM:

The aim of this assignment is to foster teamwork, communication, and presentation skills among students by presenting a compelling team story creatively and effectively.

PROCEDURE

Form a team and select a suitable topic related to storytelling.

Brainstorm ideas and develop a story based on creativity and teamwork.

Create a structured storyline including introduction, main events, and conclusion.

Assign roles to each team member (speaker, designer, etc.).

Prepare presentation materials such as slides or visuals.

Rehearse the presentation to improve clarity and confidence.

Present the story in class using engaging techniques.

Receive feedback and improve presentation skills.

Presentation:

Example Script for Team Presentation

INTRODUCTION:

Good morning everyone,

Today we are going to present our team story titled "The Lost Letter."

This story highlights themes of mystery, friendship, and curiosity. It shows how a simple decision can lead to unexpected and supernatural consequences.

Our story is about four friends who unknowingly uncover a dark secret from the past.

BODY:

Act 1: Setting the Stage

Four college friends—Firoz, Mithil, Mukesh, and Dhana—move into a new apartment as paying guests.

They soon discover that ten years ago, a student named Mahesh committed suicide in the same room after writing a mysterious letter. However, parts of the letter were missing, and the case remained unsolved.

Act 2: Rising Action

Curious about the incident, the friends decide to communicate with the spirit using a Ouija board.

At first, nothing happens, and they treat it as a joke.

However, Mithil becomes deeply interested and secretly performs a ritual using his own blood to contact the spirit.

That night, strange events begin, and Mithil experiences a terrifying dream.

Act 3: Climax and Resolution

In his dream, Mithil travels back in time and witnesses Mahesh's final moments.

He sees Mahesh writing the letter and finally reads the complete version, uncovering the hidden truth behind his death.

When Mithil wakes up, he is silent and shocked.

The story ends with him looking back at the apartment, leaving the mystery open-ended.

CONCLUSION:

This story teaches us that curiosity can sometimes lead to dangerous consequences.

It also highlights the importance of understanding the past and the emotional struggles people face.

Through teamwork, we were able to develop and present this story creatively.

RESULT:

The team presentation was successfully completed, demonstrating effective collaboration, storytelling skills, and confident delivery. The activity helped improve communication, creativity, and teamwork among the participants.

Pre-Production Planning and Management

AIM:

The aim of this assignment is to develop an understanding of essential pre-production processes in filmmaking, including planning, budgeting, scheduling, casting, and location management.

PROCEDURE:

- Select a pre-production topic related to the project
- Conduct research on planning, budgeting, scheduling, and casting
- Analyze the importance of pre-production in filmmaking
- Develop a detailed plan for the short film
- Prepare documents such as schedule, cast list, and location details
- Review the plan and make necessary improvements
- Present the pre-production plan effectively

Pre-Production Planning for “The Lost Letter”

INTRODUCTION:

Pre-production is the most important phase of filmmaking, where all planning and preparation take place before shooting begins.

For our short film “The Lost Letter,” careful planning was done to ensure smooth execution of scenes, proper coordination among team members, and effective storytelling.

BODY:

1. Understanding Pre-Production:

Pre-production involves organizing all elements required for the film such as script finalization, casting, location selection, scheduling, and budgeting.

It helps reduce confusion during shooting and ensures efficient workflow.

2. Planning and Organization:

a) Story Finalization:

The script of “The Lost Letter” was finalized with a clear structure including introduction, conflict, and climax.

b) Casting:

Roles were assigned based on suitability:

- Mahesh – Emotional and serious character
- Mithil – Curious and bold
- Firoz – Funny and practical
- Mukesh – Calm and logical
- Dhana – Curious and idea generator

c) Location Scouting:

Main location: Apartment room (for horror setting)

Additional areas: Outside building and corridor

The location was chosen to match the dark and suspenseful mood.

d) Equipment Planning:

- Camera / Mobile camera
- Tripod for stable shots
- Lighting (dim lights, candles)
- Sound recording device

CONCLUSION:

Pre-production plays a crucial role in filmmaking by ensuring proper planning and execution. Through this experiment, we understood how organizing resources, planning scenes, and assigning roles can significantly improve the quality of a film.

RESULT:

The pre-production planning was successfully completed, providing a clear roadmap for the filmmaking process. It improved coordination, organization, and overall efficiency in executing the project.

PRODUCTION

AIM:

The aim of this assignment is to understand the production phase of filmmaking, focusing on single-camera production personnel, equipment, and techniques used to create a short film.

PROCEDURE:

Select the topic: single-camera production and equipment.

Conduct research on production roles and responsibilities.

Study camera techniques, lighting, and sound recording.

Identify equipment required for filming.

Assign roles to team members.

Execute the shooting process based on the plan.

Analyze the production techniques used.

Present the findings and outcomes.

Production Details of “The Lost Letter”

INTRODUCTION:

Production is the phase where the actual shooting of the film takes place.

In our project “The Lost Letter,” we used a single-camera setup to capture all scenes, focusing on creating a horror atmosphere through lighting, camera angles, and performance.

BODY:

1. Understanding Production:

Production involves capturing visuals and audio based on the script. It includes camera work, acting, lighting, and direction.

2. Key Personnel and Their Roles:

Director: Managed the overall vision and guided actors

Cinematographer: Handled camera angles, shots, and lighting

Actors: Performed characters (Mahesh, Mithil, friends)

Editor (Post role): Planned shots for smooth editing

Production Assistant: Helped in setup and coordination

3. Equipment Used:

Mobile camera / DSLR

Tripod for stability

Lighting setup (dim lights, candles for horror effect)

Props (letter, rope, Ouija board, pencil box)

Basic sound recording device

4. Production Techniques Used:

a) Camera Techniques:

Close-up shots (letter, tears, coin movement)

Wide shots (room and group scenes)

Slow zoom for suspense

b) Lighting Techniques:

Low lighting to create horror mood

Candlelight for Ouija scenes

Blinking light effect for tension

c) Acting and Direction:

Natural acting to maintain realism

Emotional expressions (fear, curiosity, shock)

Controlled movements for suspense scenes

d) Sound Elements:

Background music for tension

Silence to build suspense

Sudden sound effects for impact

5. Challenges Faced and Solutions:

Challenges Solutions

Low-budget equipment Used mobile camera effectively

Lighting issues at night Used candles and minimal lights

Creating horror effects Used camera angles and sound

Acting coordination Conducted rehearsals

6. Case Study (Application in Our Film):

In "The Lost Letter," the single-camera setup helped:

Focus on specific emotions and details

Create a suspenseful atmosphere

Maintain continuity in storytelling

The production techniques enhanced the horror and psychological impact of the film.

CONCLUSION:

The production phase is crucial as it transforms the script into visual form.

Through this experiment, we learned the importance of camera techniques, lighting, sound, and teamwork in creating an effective film.

RESULT:

The production process was successfully carried out using a single-camera setup. The team effectively utilized available resources to create a visually engaging and suspenseful short film, improving practical knowledge of filmmaking techniques.

WRITING THE FINAL PROPOSAL

AIM:

The aim of this assignment is to develop the ability to create a detailed and persuasive final proposal for a media project, including overview, media treatments, summary, and pitching.

Procedure:

Select the media project (short film).

Conduct research on audience and genre.

Prepare the project overview.

Develop media treatments including visual style and characters.

Write a concise summary of the story.

Prepare a compelling pitch.

Review and refine the proposal.

Present the final proposal effectively.

Final Proposal for “The Lost Letter”

Title: The Lost Letter

OVERVIEW:

The Lost Letter is a psychological horror short film that explores the consequences of curiosity and the mysteries of the supernatural.

The story revolves around four college students who move into an apartment with a dark past. A tragic suicide that occurred years ago becomes the center of their curiosity, leading them to experiment with a Ouija board.

As one of them dives deeper into the unknown, he uncovers hidden truths that connect the past and present, revealing a disturbing reality.

Media Treatments:

Visual Style:

The film uses dark tones, dim lighting, and shadows to create a suspenseful and eerie atmosphere.

Close-up shots and slow camera movements are used to build tension and highlight emotions.

Tone and Mood:

Dark and mysterious

Suspenseful and psychological

Emotional and intense

Narrative Structure:

Beginning: Introduction of characters and setting

Middle: Investigation and supernatural interaction

End: Discovery and open-ended conclusion

Character Profiles:

Mithil: Curious and daring, driven by interest in supernatural elements

Firoz: Practical and humorous, initially skeptical

Mukesh: Calm and logical thinker

Dhana: Curious and idea initiator

Mahesh: Tragic character whose past drives the story

Summary:

The Lost Letter follows four friends who move into an apartment where a mysterious suicide occurred years ago.

Driven by curiosity, they attempt to contact the spirit using a Ouija board. While others treat it lightly, Mithil secretly performs a dangerous ritual to connect with the past.

This leads him into a dream-like experience where he witnesses the final moments of the victim, Mahesh, and uncovers the truth hidden within a lost letter.

The story ends with an open conclusion, leaving the audience with unanswered questions and a sense of mystery.

Pitching the Project:

The Lost Letter is a gripping horror story that combines psychological elements with supernatural suspense.

The film stands out due to its strong storytelling, minimalistic setting, and deep emotional connection. It explores how curiosity can lead to unexpected consequences and reveals hidden truths from the past.

With its engaging narrative and eerie atmosphere, the film has the potential to captivate audiences and leave a lasting impression.

The project is designed to be produced with limited resources while maintaining high impact through creative direction and storytelling techniques.

Budget and Timeline:

Budget: Low budget (student project using available resources)

Equipment: Mobile camera, basic lighting, props

Shooting Duration: 2–3 days

Post-production: 1–2 weeks

Release: Within one month after completion

Conclusion:

The Lost Letter is a compelling short film that blends horror and emotion, creating a memorable cinematic experience.

Through this project, we aim to engage the audience with suspense, mystery, and a meaningful storyline that highlights the consequences of curiosity and the unknown.

RESULT:

The final proposal was successfully prepared, incorporating a detailed overview, media treatments, summary, and pitching strategy. This enhanced our understanding of planning and presenting a complete media project effectively.

DOCUMENTARY & ANIMATION TREATMENT

AIM:

The aim of this experiment is to develop skills in creating documentary and animation treatments by planning and presenting creative storytelling ideas with clear narrative structure and visual representation.

PROCEDURE:

Study different documentary and animation styles.

Select a suitable topic for both formats.

Conduct research related to the chosen concept.

Develop a documentary treatment with real-world perspective.

Create an animation treatment with creative storytelling.

Define visual style, characters, and narrative flow.

Prepare and present the treatments.

Review and improve based on feedback.

Documentary Treatment:

Title:

“The Untold Truth Behind The Lost Letter”

SYNOPSIS:

This documentary explores the mysterious suicide of a college student named Mahesh, which occurred ten years ago in a small apartment.

Through interviews, reenactments, and investigation, the documentary attempts to uncover the hidden truth behind the incident.

It focuses on the missing parts of the letter Mahesh wrote before his death and the unanswered questions that still remain.

The documentary also follows a group of students who later stayed in the same apartment and experienced strange incidents, adding a supernatural angle to the investigation.

By combining real-life perspectives with mystery, the documentary highlights themes of mental pressure, curiosity, and the unknown.

VISUAL STYLE:

Realistic interviews

Dark-toned reenactments

THEMES:

Mystery and investigation

Mental stress and hidden struggles

Supernatural possibilities

Curiosity and consequences

Animation Treatment:

Title:

“The Lost Letter: A Supernatural Tale”

Synopsis:

This animated short film retells the story of The Lost Letter in a visually creative and engaging way.

The story follows four friends who move into a haunted apartment and become curious about a past suicide.

Through stylized animation, the Ouija board scenes, supernatural events, and dream sequences are enhanced with dramatic visuals and effects.

Mithil's dream is portrayed as a surreal animated sequence where reality blends with the past, allowing viewers to experience Mahesh's final moments in a more imaginative way.

The animation uses symbolic visuals such as shadows, distorted environments, and glowing elements to represent fear and mystery.

Animation Style:

2D dark-themed animation

Stylized characters with expressive emotions

Use of shadows and color contrast

Smooth transitions for dream sequences

Themes:

Horror and suspense

Supernatural exploration

Emotional storytelling

Mystery and imagination

Conclusion:

This experiment helped in understanding how the same story can be presented in different formats such as documentary and animation.

It enhanced creativity, storytelling ability, and the understanding of visual representation techniques in both realistic and imaginative ways.

RESULT:

The documentary and animation treatments were successfully created, demonstrating the ability to present a single concept in two different storytelling formats. This improved creative thinking and planning skills.

DATE :

POST-PRODUCTION: EDITING, SOUND DESIGN, FINISHING

AIM:

The aim of this experiment is to gain knowledge and hands-on experience in post-production processes such as video editing, sound design, and adding finishing touches to create a polished final film.

PROCEDURE:

Import raw footage into editing software.
Arrange clips according to the script sequence.
Perform basic editing such as cutting and trimming.
Apply transitions and effects where required.
Add background music and sound effects.
Enhance audio quality and synchronize sound.
Perform color correction and grading.
Add titles and credits.
Export the final video in required format.
Review and refine the final output.
Post-Production of “The Lost Letter”

EDITING TECHNIQUES:

1. Cutting:
Used to switch between scenes smoothly
Applied cut-to-shot for normal transitions
Used fade in and fade out for opening and ending scenes
2. Continuity Editing:
Maintained smooth flow between scenes
Used shot/reverse shot for conversations
Ensured logical sequence of events
3. Transitions:
Fade transitions for emotional scenes
Dissolve effects for dream sequences
Smooth cuts for normal scenes

PACING AND RHYTHM:

Slow pacing used in horror scenes to build tension
Quick cuts used during intense moments
Proper timing maintained for suspense buildup

SPECIAL EFFECTS:

Blinking light effect to create fear
Visual enhancement in dream sequences
Minimal effects used to maintain realism

SOUND EDITING:

Background music added for suspense
Silence used to increase tension
Sound effects (coin movement, footsteps, etc.) included
Audio synchronized with visuals

MANIPULATING TIME:

Slow motion used in emotional and suspense scenes
Dream sequence used to connect past and present

TRANSITIONS:

Fade In / Fade Out
Dissolve for dream scenes
Smooth cuts for normal flow

EXPORT AND COMPRESSION:

Exported in MP4 format
Optimized video quality and file size
Suitable for online platforms like YouTube
Distribution and Marketing:
Uploaded on platforms like YouTube or social media
Shared among peers and audience
Used feedback for improvement

CONCLUSION:

Post-production plays a vital role in enhancing the quality and impact of a film.

Through editing, sound design, and visual effects, raw footage is transformed into a complete and engaging final product.

RESULT:

The post-production process was successfully completed, resulting in a polished and visually appealing short film. This experiment improved our skills in editing, sound design, and finishing techniques.
